

WORKING THE FIELDS

[The following is a Word of the Lord in the form of a story as given to Frances Blaize, an Intercessor, on April 7, 2020]

Long ago there was a kingdom. The people who lived in the kingdom were very poor and worked very hard to earn a living. No matter how hard they worked and labored, they remained very poor and needy.

One day, while one of the villagers was at work in his field, digging in the soil, he struck a stone with his tool, but was unable to remove the stone. So he began to dig and dig, the more he dug he realized this was not just a stone but, in fact, it was a structure. Out of his curiosity he continued to dig and dig and before long he had unearthed what seemed to be a tower, a structure that was made of stones and held together with mortar.

But it was more than just a tower because it was filled with treasure. Soon all of the people living in the kingdom no longer needed or were in lack of anything. They were able to go to the tower and remove some of its treasures whenever they had a need.

Now there was a wicked king who ruled over the people living in this kingdom. The king heard of how his subjects were no longer in want or needed anything because of the treasure and riches that this tower held. He heard how every subject in his kingdom had free access to the treasure this tower held, and could come and freely take from this treasure to satisfy their needs.

The king decided to take possession of the tower and all of its riches. So he sent his army to dismantle the tower and move it, with all of its treasure to his castle.

The king's men dismantled the tower stone by stone, only to find there was no treasure inside. All they were in possession of, was a great pile of stones. Because the treasure was never contained behind the walls of the tower, but the treasure was always in the field.

If we are going to reap the harvest of souls, we will find them in the field, not in our manmade structures. The treasure was not in the tower, but was in the field and accessible only to those who are willing to work in the field.

Behold, I am sending forth laborers to go and reap the harvest that is ripe and ready to be brought into my storehouse. I am sifting and I am separating the sheep from the goats.

The Kingdom of God is not and will not be found in the kingdoms of men. My Kingdom is not in manmade structures, but my Kingdom in this earth is within the hearts of men. And I am building my Kingdom in the hearts of those who love me and keep my words. Those who love me and keep my Words will never lack for anything. Yes I am building my Kingdom in the hearts of men who are willing to lay down their lives and follow in my footsteps.

The rich man sold all that he had to purchase the field. He was willing to let go of all he possessed, in order to possess the pearl that cost him everything he considered to be of value in his life. Yet all he did does not compare to what Jesus did when he laid down His life so that we could have eternal life.
